2012 ASEWU General Election Results

These election results were approved by the ASEWU Council.

Write-in candidates who receive more than fifty (50) votes will be listed by name and number of votes received. All other write-ins are counted in their respective “other” position.

ASEWU Constitutional Amendment

Should we amend the ASEWU constitution to change the number of days students can vote in both the primary and general elections from one to three days?

While the voter turnout is over fourteen percent, the ballot measure does not pass. The numbers do not meet the requirements given in Article VII, Section I, which states "The ASEWU Constitution may be amended by two-thirds (2/3) vote of those voting on the proposed modification at any regular election, provided that ten percent (10%) of the members of ASEWU vote in that election."
